Why Safety?
Milton Middle School
Milton, West Virginia, USA

Students will examine the GigaPans on this project site and make comments about the safety or potential safety hazards in the images. Students will read each other’s comments and respond to those comments. Finally students will write a paper including the potential risks and what could be done to make the situations more safe.

If this guy isn’t careful he could fall there is a possibility of his harness snapping, if that happens there’s not really much of a chance of him surviving.

These right here show some of the safety conditions on this site. I think this site is safe, for the people who are trained for it.
